

On May 8, 2016 in Haghpat was held “Youth voice for change and development” Armenian and Georgian cross-border project’s first meeting between the all participants of 2 countries. Participants were introduced to the program's goal: each school has to choose a partner and make joint development program with clear objectives and make a plan of actions in their schools.

The participants got to know each other and each of them presented what stage they are at, and until this moment what they did within “Youth voice for change and development” Armenian-Georgian cross-border project.

At the end of the first day of two-day training program for managers evaluated the proposed ideas and views. The second day of the workshop was intended only for Georgian participants, they discussed project ideas.

“Youth Voice for Change and Development” project is implemented in Georgian Marneuli and Bolnisi and in Tumanyan and Stepanavan regions of marz Lori in Armenia with the support of "Society of Democratic Women of Marneuli" NGO, “Centre for Community Mobilization and Support” NGO, “Civitas Georgca” NGO and European Union.

